DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The applicant claims that "a third accepting portion" for accepting information, however, the Examiner fail to locate a first and a second accepting portion for accepting information. Therefore, the Examiner will consider "a third accepting portion" as --a first accepting portion--.

Appropriate clarification is requested.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

4. Claims 1, 5, 6 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Smith (US 6,944,618).

Smith teaches a IMS hierarchical database comprising segment code (410) serving as a classification code, a segment level (420) serving as a level number, a parent code (430), and segment type (440) serving as a commodity classification name, an input/out device for receiving/outputting information, and adding segment according to segment code (see figs. 1-8; col. 3, lines 23, col. 9, line 57).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 4 is allowed.

6. Claims 2 and 3 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Although, the best prior art of the record to Smith teaches the hierarchical database, he fails to particularly teach that a commodity information management program for controlling and operating a computer and equipment comprises a second accepting portion for accepting information designating one of the other records in the first storage with identical parent code with addition record as a moving-back target record and the moving-back portion for replacing the parent code in the moving-back target records with the commodity classification code in the addition record, and incrementing the level number in the moving-back target record by one and incrementing the level number in the records defining attribute in lower level defining a narrower sense than in the moving-back target record by one as set forth in the claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

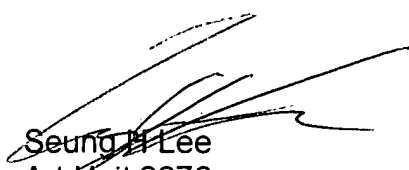

Minowa et al. (US 2004/0041022) discloses a POS system for determining information according to commodity information.
